

CHRISTIAN PAHUD READY FOR ORLANDO PRI SHOWDOWN

(Harrisburg, NC) ó Team Full Throttle NASCAR Driver Development racer Christian PaHud is heading for the Sunshine State this week to compete in the invitation only INEX Legends portion of the Performance Racing Industry (PRI) Show spectacular at the Orlando Speedworld on Thursday and Friday December 6th and 7th.

The 14-year old PaHud has won ten races so far in his rookie Legends season, including the 2007 INEX Summer Shootout Semi-Pro Championship at Lowe's Motor Speedway and the PASS Mason-Dixon Meltdown race at Concord Motorsport Park. This will be his first time competing at the fast and challenging Speedworld in this event, and he says he's looking forward to a strong showing. "Dan Snyder has prepared the car well for this race," PaHud said. "I am excited about being invited to compete against some of the best in Legends racing at Orlando. I've been pretty successful so far this year, but I've been overaggressive at times and I know I need to work on that. Our goal for this weekend is just to run a smooth, clean race and hopefully be in the top three at the end."

The event is part of a two-day racing showdown also featuring the USAC Sprint Cars, USAC Midgets, and USAC Ford Focus Midget divisions. The PRI show is the industry's largest trade show, so PaHud says this one would be a nice feather to put in his cap. "That's why it's important for us to run well but run clean," Christian nodded. "I need to show that we are capable of running for the win at Orlando and I'm looking forward to doing that for my family, Dan Snyder Racing, and Team Full Throttle. I think we're going to stay in the Legends next season but we'll be moving up to the Pro Division, so this race will be a good barometer for us to show us where we stack up because it combines the Semi-Pros with the Pros and Masters classes. I'm excited about the opportunity!"
