

CHRISTIAN PAHUD WINS FIRST KENTUCKY LEGENDS FEATURE

Dayton, OH ó Team Full Throttle Driver Development Racer Christian Pahud made it six top three finishes in six Legends car starts last weekend, getting his first ever win in the division and then coming back for a second the next day. Both races took place at the Kentucky Speedway.

õWeøve really been fortunate to get off to this strong of a start,ö the 13-year old said. Dan Snyder has taught us so much this winter, and weøve been able to qualify up front which helps me to be able to be more patient in the races. Weøve had two seconds on the road course at Charlotte, and two seconds, a third, and a win at Kentucky so weøre pretty happy so far.

The result of his early success at Kentucky is that heø's leading the points in the Semi-Pro division of the KOIL (Kentucky-Ohio-Indiana Legends) Tour. Christianø's looking forward to his pending relocation to Charlotte but with mixed emotions. õBoy I canøt wait to make the move to North Carolina this summer, but I hope we can finish what we started here at Kentucky and run for the Championship. I canøt thank my family enough for everything theyøve sacrificed for me to race, and I also need to say thanks to Dan Snyder Racing and Team Full Throttle for being so helpful and making our transition to the oval tracks and Legends cars so much easier and more fun. I just hope our good luck can continue for a while!ö

March 28, 2007